

PART III – Manual of Instructions

Manual of Instruction on Census enumeration was published in Enumerator’s Manual & Field Booklet and consisted on 26 pages. This booklet was provided to each of the enumerators and was written in English language. With the aid of this Manual of Instructions the Census Officer gave training to the Enumerators.

In manual of Instruction, it was mentioned that an unoccupied house were to be marked on the map with the letter E (for Empty) and a new house in the area also need to mark in the map. Unfortunately most of the enumerators are not marking unoccupied houses, only few of them followed this instruction. The information on unoccupied houses cannot be available in this census.

Census Schedules

There are 2 types of census schedules:

Household/Dwelling Schedule: this schedule is to be completed for each household by the head of the household. One schedule per household.

Population Schedule: this schedule is to be completed by each person in the household. One population schedule per person.

Some Definitions

Household/Dwelling

A single person living alone

A group voluntarily living together under one roof, having common housekeeping arrangements for supplying basic living needs, such as principal meals.

The group may consist of related or unrelated persons.

The Instructions says that:

1. Old people who sleep in the house or in a assembly unit or any type of building separate from the main house, but share the cooking facilities and eat together; belong to the same household.
2. A visitor, border or lodger who sleeps in the house or in any type of building separate from the house belongs to the household.
3. If a house or flat is shared by two or more family groups, each of which makes their own arrangements for cooking and eating, such groups should be regarded as constituting separate households. On the other hand if “everyone” in two or more family groups share the kitchen and house and eat together, they are to be regarded as members of one family.

Glossary

Terms

Definitions/Descriptions

Age Dependency Ratio	The ratio of the population in the ages defined as dependent (under 15 and over 65 years) to the population in the aged defined as economically productive (15-59 years)
Age-specific fertility rate	Number of births occurring during a specified period to women of a specified age or age group, divided by the number of person-years lived during that period by women of that age or age group.
Balancing equation	Population growth = birth – death + net migration
Childbearing age	The span which women are capable of bearing children, generally taken to be from age 15 to 49.
Children ever borne	Number of children ever borne alive by a particular woman: synonymous with “Parity”. In demographic usage, still birth are specifically excluded.
Crude birth rate	The total number of live births per 1000 population in a given year
Crude death rate	The total number of deaths per 1000 population in a given year
De facto population	Population enumerated on the basis of those present at a particular time, including temporary visitors and excluding residents temporarily absent.
Growth rate	The increase or decrease of a population in a period divided by the number of person-years lived by the population during the same period
Infant mortality rate	Number of deaths of children under one year of age
Life table	Listing of the number of survivors at different ages (up to the highest age attained) in a hypothetical “cohort” subject from birth to a particular set of “age-specific mortality rates”. The survivors of the “radix” to age x are generally denoted by l(x). The tabulations commonly accompanying a life table include other features of the cohort's experience: its expectation of life at each age  $x$ , denoted by  $e_x$ , the probability of dying from each age  $x$  to age  $x+n$ , denoted by  ${}_nq_x$ ; the person-years lived by the hypothetical cohort as it ages from age  $x$  to age  $x+n$  denoted by  ${}_nL_x$  (also equivalent to the population age  $x, x+n$  in a "stationary population" experiencing a number of births each year equal to the radix of the life table); and the person-years lived by the hypothetical cohort from age  $x$  onward, denoted by  $T_x$ .

Mean age at childbearing in the population average age of the mothers of the children born in a population during a year. This measures incorporate the effects of both mortality and age distribution.

Median

The value associated with the central member of a set that is ordered by size or some other characteristics expressed in numbers

Myers Index

An index of digit preference that essentially sums in turn the population ending in each digit over some age range 10-79 expressing the total as a percentage of the total population and which avoid the bias introduced by the fact that the population is not evenly distributed among all ages by repeating the calculations 10 times, once for each beginning digit, and averaging the results. The difference between the average percentage for each digit and the expected value of 10 per cent provides a measure of the preference for or avoidance of the digit over the age range considered.

Net Migration

Difference between gross immigration and gross emigration

P/F ratio Method

A consistency check for survey information on fertility. Information on recent fertility is cumulated to obtain measures that are equivalent to average parities. Lifetime fertility in the form of reported average parities by age group. P can there be compared for consistence with the parity equivalents, F by calculating the ratio P/F for successive age groups. If certain assumptions about error patterns are met, an improved estimate of fertility can sometimes be obtain by correcting the age pattern of the current fertility to agree with the level of life time fertility reported by the younger women.

Radix	The hypothetical birth “cohort” of a “life table”. Common values are 1, 1,000 and 100,000
Sex ratio at birth	number of male births per 100 female births
Singulate mean age at marriage	A measure of a mean age at first marriage , derived from a set of proportions of people single at different ages or in different age groups, usually calculated separately for males and females
Whipple’s index	A measure of the quality of age-reporting based on the extent of preference for a particular target digit or digits. The index essentially compares the reported population at ages ending in the target digit or digits with the population expected on the assumption that population is a linear function of age. For a particular age range, often 23-62, the population with ages ending in the target digits is divided by one tenth of the total population, the result is then multiplied by 100 and divided by the number of different target digits. A value of 100 indicate positive preference for them
