Foreword by the Secretary of Education

I would like to start by expressing my gratitude for all Primary Head teachers, Junior Secondary Principals and Senior Secondary Principals for taking the time in providing us with valuable data about their schools.

Special thanks go to Ministry of Finance and Economic Development for providing teacher's payroll data and finance data for Education and to Preschool head teachers in providing data about their preschool through Primary head teachers.

Without these data this Digest would never have been completed. Accurate and timely data provide useful information about the Education system in Kiribati which assists greatly in planning. Information has also been disseminated to a wider audience interested in the development of our Education system.

The 2011 Digest was produced under the KEMIS project funded by AusAID and implemented by UNIQEST. It includes a report on Education for All indicators within the goals of Early Childhood Education, Access, Gender and Quality. It also includes finance data about Education as well as other details in a time series in response to the demand by our partners in the development of Education in Kiribati.

The MOE Annual School Survey

Each year the Ministry of Education surveys the schools of Kiribati to gather data about the pupils, teachers, facilities, grounds and resources at each school. Additional data is also collected from the National Statistics Office (population data and projections) and the Ministry of Finance (financial and budget figures).

The Ministry of Education is grateful to School Head Teachers and Principals for providing school data through survey forms completed each year. These data are used by the Ministry of Education for the purposes of planning and monitoring the effectiveness of education sector development programmes, as well as day-to-day operational management of the education sector.

School survey data once received at MOE is collated and analysed using the Kiribati Education Management Information System (KEMIS). KEMIS is a rich database of information about the schools, students and teachers of the Kiribati education system. If you would like more information about the Kiribati education system, or more detailed information about an aspect of the system, please contact the Secretary of Education's office at the Ministry of Education.

Section One: National Summary Statistics

Our Schools

There are four types of schools operating in the formal education system of Kiribati: Primary Schools (PS), Junior Secondary Schools (JSS), Combined Junior and Senior Secondary Schools (CS), and Senior Secondary Schools (SSS).

Currently formal education commences in Primary schools at Class One, for children aged six years. Primary schooling continues for six years, to Class Six.

Secondary education follows after Primary schooling and continues for three (to Form 3), six (to Form 6), or, for a small number, seven years (to Form 7). The purpose of secondary education is to expand knowledge of subjects already studied at primary school including literature, science, mathematics, social studies, commerce and other subjects essential for physical and intellectual development and to prepare students for specialised skills training.

In the Secondary school system, there are 3 categories of schools:

Junior Secondary Schools: This is a continuation of free education from Primary schools and students are promoted automatically into these schools. Each island has its own JSS which is run by the Government. The Universal Junior Secondary Schooling program initially started in 1998 with four schools established on different islands. By 2002 all islands had one JSS and Primary students on each island are absorbed into that school system. JSS starts from Form One and completes at Form Three. At the end of Form Three, students have to sit for exams in order to get places at much higher forms. Since 2002 to date, there are 24 well established JSS in Kiribati.

Senior Secondary Schools: With the increase in number of JSS established, Senior Secondary Schools emerged. As students from Primary were slowly being absorbed into JSS, Secondary Schools which used to have Form One to Six or Seven slowly started phasing out Form One to Three. This year there are 9 registered Senior Secondary Schools in Kiribati, starting from Form Four to either Form Six or Seven. Three of these are run by Government and twelve are operated by Churches.

Combined Junior/Senior Secondary Schools: These are schools which still have students at lower levels of Secondary as well as higher forms. There are now 8 schools of such type and all are run by Churches. Despite the fact that they are church owned, their Junior Secondary subjects particularly at Form Three are still controlled by Government as are all the other Junior Secondary School subjects. However, these are still registered as Senior Secondary Schools even though they have aspects of a Junior Secondary School.

Infrastructure

National Infrastructure Standards (NIS) for Primary Schools were revised and extended in 2006. Where 2011 NIS data is not available then 2010 data is used.

Classifying Schools

The Infrastructure Standards distinguish between Urban and Rural schools, where urban schools are defined as:

Schools with access to piped water, town power and waste disposal services (town sewer, septic pump-out and garbage collection).

For purposes of this analysis, South Tarawa schools are treated as Urban, all others as Rural.

The Standards also distinguish between schools based on enrolment; in 2011, these divisions are:

Small Schools with up to 90 students
Medium Schools with 91 and up to 180 students
Large Schools with more than 180 students

Annex One: School Survey Performance

In large part, the data presented in this Digest has been collated from the school survey forms distributed to each school in Kiribati since 2002.

In 2011, the percentages of schools returning surveys have dramatically increase overall.

For those schools that did not return their forms in the current survey, data is “estimated” by substituting that supplied on the most recent survey returned.

The levels of survey returns by district, and the subsequent degree to which data has been estimated, are analysed in this annex.
